

PETER SUPPORT:

USE THIS GRID TO GUIDE YOU THROUGH A TRICKY PETER. PICK ONLY ONE PHRASE FROM EACH BOX TO CREATE A SOPHISTICATED ANSWER

EVIDENCE POINT

Roald Dahl in 'Lamb to the Slaughter'	highlights reinforces exemplifies	The	Rising tension Unease and anxiety Sense of the Uncanny	As a	Crucial Central Very important	convention of suspense	to create to highlight to reveal	a sense that/of an impression of	Feeling uncomfortable with the relationship between Mr and Mrs Maloney Foreshadowing the inevitable incident through the rising tension and the difficult conversations between Mr and Mrs Maloney.
---------------------------------------	-----------------------------------	-----	--	------	-----------------------------------	------------------------	--	-------------------------------------	--

By using the phrase: "it wasn't until then that she began to get frightened" "each minute gone by made it nearer the time when he would come home"	the writer	proves illustrates reiterates	Mrs Maloney's emotions towards her husband The importance of time, waiting and suspense in this genre of writing as the reader is also gripped.	Similarly, Moreover, In addition,	Dahl makes other links to these key themes in the lines:	"She loved to luxuriate in the presence of this man" "As a sunbather feels in the sun"	To highlight the way that... To demonstrate the tone... To reveal...	the most important word that reveals is this...	(now you must choose a word from your quote that you think makes this clear).
--	------------	-------------------------------	--	-----------------------------------	--	---	--	---	---

PETER SUPPORT:

USE THIS GRID TO GUIDE YOU THROUGH A TRICKY PETER. PICK ONLY ONE PHRASE FROM EACH BOX TO CREATE A SOPHISTICATED ANSWER

EVIDENCE POINT

Roald Dahl in 'Lamb to the Slaughter'	highlights reinforces exemplifies	The	Rising tension Unease and anxiety Sense of the Uncanny	As a	Crucial Central Very important	convention of suspense	to create to highlight to reveal	a sense that/of an impression of	Feeling uncomfortable with the relationship between Mr and Mrs Maloney Foreshadowing the inevitable incident through the rising tension and the difficult conversations between Mr and Mrs Maloney.
---------------------------------------	-----------------------------------	-----	--	------	-----------------------------------	------------------------	--	-------------------------------------	--

By using the phrase: "it wasn't until then that she began to get frightened" "each minute gone by made it nearer the time when he would come home"	the writer	proves illustrates reiterates	Mrs Maloney's emotions towards her husband The importance of time, waiting and suspense in this genre of writing as the reader is also gripped.	Similarly, Moreover, In addition,	Dahl makes other links to these key themes in the lines:	"She loved to luxuriate in the presence of this man" "As a sunbather feels in the sun"	To highlight the way that... To demonstrate the tone... To reveal...	the most important word that reveals is this...	(now you must choose a word from your quote that you think makes this clear).
--	------------	-------------------------------	--	-----------------------------------	--	---	--	---	---

PETER SUPPORT:

USE THIS GRID TO GUIDE YOU THROUGH A TRICKY PETER. PICK ONLY ONE PHRASE FROM EACH BOX TO CREATE A SOPHISTICATED ANSWER

EVIDENCE POINT

Roald Dahl in 'Lamb to the Slaughter'	highlights reinforces exemplifies	The	Rising tension Unease and anxiety Sense of the Uncanny	As a	Crucial Central Very important	convention of suspense	to create to highlight to reveal	a sense that/of an impression of	Feeling uncomfortable with the relationship between Mr and Mrs Maloney Foreshadowing the inevitable incident through the rising tension and the difficult conversations between Mr and Mrs Maloney.
---------------------------------------	-----------------------------------	-----	--	------	-----------------------------------	------------------------	--	-------------------------------------	--

By using the phrase: "it wasn't until then that she began to get frightened" "each minute gone by made it nearer the time when he would come home"	the writer	proves illustrates reiterates	Mrs Maloney's emotions towards her husband The importance of time, waiting and suspense in this genre of writing as the reader is also gripped.	Similarly, Moreover, In addition,	Dahl makes other links to these key themes in the lines:	"She loved to luxuriate in the presence of this man" "As a sunbather feels in the sun"	To highlight the way that... To demonstrate the tone... To reveal...	the most important word that reveals is this...	(now you must choose a word from your quote that you think makes this clear).
--	------------	-------------------------------	--	-----------------------------------	--	---	--	---	---